SILVER EMBARGO.

IMPORTANCE TO BRITISH MERCHANTS IN CHINA.

HANDICAPPING OUR TRADE?

GOLD AND SILVER EXPORT BILL PASSES SECOND READING.

LONDON, November 30.

In the House of Commons, Sir H. S. Samuel moved the rejection of the Gold and Silver Export Bill. He declared that freedom to export silver to the East was essential for our great interests there. He said that the Government had encouraged the formation in Britain of a syndicate to have the sole right of financing the Chinese Government. This British syndicate had formed a syndicate in China composed of Chinese merchants. If the Bill were passed the Government would be supporting the Chinese financial group, thus eliminating the whole of the British merchants in China. The latter would be unable to carry out any large contracts with China. He believed that negotiations were going on with a syndicate in America and Japan. China had asked whether arrangement had been made with the Governments of those countries to prohibit the export of silver from the countries to China except through the Chinese syndicate. The consequence would be that unless these countries took the same steps as the Government was taking we should be asking the Chinese to pass their orders on to our competitors instead of to ourselves. The British Government's inclusion of silver in this Bill was handicapping British merchants in all parts of the world, especially in the Far East in China.

Mr. Baldwin declared that the leading bankers had been consulted and had approved the measure.

AUSTRALIAN GOLD FOR CHINA.

Sir Newton Moore said that the Bill would discourage the importation of gold. He suggested that the Bill be amended to allow imported gold to be exported on licence. Otherwise there would be no encouragement to bring gold here. Australia was sending gold direct to India, China and other places, and South Africa was sending her gold to America.

Mr. Baldwin, replying, said that the criticism of the Bill had been perfectly fair and reasonable. The reasons why the Government adhered to the terms of the Bill were that it conferred permanent dormant power which was considered an essential part of the financial armory of the country. Hence the Government was anxious, and the bankers as trustees of the gold supply of the country were anxious, to see this made part of the permanent financial equipment of the country.

GOLD EMBARGO TO CONTINUE.

The Government desired as much as anyone to see London again the free market for it which it had been removed for so many years. It must not be forgotten that the powers under which the prohibition of the export existed would end with the ratification of the last peace treaty. He declared that there was not the slightest risk or objection to the Bill proving valid. He was glad there was a consensus of opinion that at present the gold export restrictions must be maintained, but he was not surprised at the comments regarding silver prohibition, which was entirely different. He was hopeful that it would not be necessary to frame regulations against the export of silver bullion.

DANGER TO SILVER COINAGE.

Mr. Baldwin pointed out that the position of the silver coinage today was different. There might be imminent risk with regard to it when a new coinage of different fineness was being introduced into this country. Unrestricted export might lead to a temporary drainage of more valuable coins which might conceivably leave us with a dangerous shortage of silver coinage. He was hopeful from the outlook to-day that it might be unnecessary to put into effect the powers of the Bill.

Replying to Sir Newton Moore, Mr. Baldwin said that it was common knowledge that an arrangement had been in force some time by which gold from South Africa was imported into Britain to be refined and re-exported. It was done under a special system of licences. This had been perfectly satisfactory to the South African Government. Mr. Baldwin gave an assurance that he would suggest a clause at the committee stage giving statutory force to this.

The Bill passed the second reading.

BOLSHIEVKS SUPREME.

EVER-IMPORTANT OPPOSING FORCE ROUNDED UP.

LONDON, December 1.

The rounding of anti-Bolshevik forces of any importance has virtually been completed, according to the latest information from Petrograd. The Press announces that general Petliura's Ukrainian army has been totally dispersed. Over 12,000 men, 35 guns and three armoured trains have been captured. A Bolshevik communique shows that General Balakhovitch has been in equally rough waters. He lost 120 officers and 4,500 men who were taken prisoners with much military booty.

GREAT LONDON MEETING.

LONDON, December 1.

A great meeting in London representing 22,000 manufacturers, the value of whose undertakings is estimated at £5,000,000,000, unanimously passed a resolution demanding the immediate withdrawal of the excess profits duty and corporation taxes, pointing out that the taxable capacity of the country had already been exceeded. Drastic retrenchment by the Government was imperative to secure the stability and development of trade.

"SLAVERY" IN HONGKONG.

LONDON, December 2nd.

In the House of Commons a question was asked if steps had been taken to secure the registration and inspection of purchased girls and children in Hongkong, and if the Government proposed to abolish altogether the traffic in human life at present carried on there.

Colonel Amery, replying, referred to his replies on November 4th. Mr. Hall declared that these replies were very unsatisfactory to the people who had information on the subject, and urged further enquiry into the allegations that slavery was carried on under British rule.

Colonel Amery replied that he had made full enquiries, and there was no slavery in Hongkong.

[On November 4th, replying to Sir Alfred Yeo (M.P. for Poplar) and Mr. Myers, Colonel Amery, Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, stated that slavery does not exist in Hongkong, or in any other British Colony. The Colony's law does not recognise the custom whereby girls are transferred on payment from parents or guardians to another household, usually for purposes of domestic service, as conferring any right or title on the employer against the girl. There was no evidence that girls were frequently ill-treated, in which event they would be protected by the law in the same way as children living with parents. The Secretary of State considers that the right course is to aim at gradual reform, where necessary, in co-operation with enlightened and humane Chinese, in which effort it is suggested that the Governor should persuade prominent Chinese to form a society for the protection and improvement of the condition of these girl domestics, which arrangement was considered preferable to a system of registration which the Colony's officers consider impracticable.]

WHOOPING COUGH.

WHEN your child has whooping cough, be careful to keep the cough loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as required. This remedy will also soothe the inflamed throat, and make the child comfortable. It is the best remedy for whooping cough, and as it is purely vegetable, it is perfectly safe. FRENCH TRAITORS.

A ROYALIST PLOT.

The Paul Meunier affair has entered on an interesting phase. The former Deputy and editor of the Pacificist journal Le Verite, who was arrested in dramatic circumstances at the time of the last elections, is charged with having gone to Switzerland during the war and talked with the German Ambassador in that country at the villa of the Swiss painter Bossard. The painter's wife made a remarkable statement which implicated Ernest Judet, former director of the Eclair, who has refused to leave Switzerland and explain his conduct.The affair has dragged on for months. Meunier and the woman who accompanied him to Switzerland, also under arrest, and Judet have denied Madame Bossard's startling story. The latest revelations concern Meunier alone, and it is M. Gauthier de Clagny, a former Deputy of the Seine-et-Oise, who makes them.
According to his declaration, it was in the mind of Meunier to bring about a coup d'etat and to restore the Monarchy, putting Prince Victor Napoleon on the throne of France.
Knowing that M. Gauthier de Clagny was a staunch friend of the Prince, he invited him to dinner in July, 1915, and told him that there was no hope of victory, and that the French armies would be crushed.
Only one thing could save the country, and that was to restore the Monarchy. Prince Victor Napoleon was the man. "Go and find him," Meunier is reported to have said.
"Tell him to enter France, and the army, the people, and my friends will carry him to the Elysee the same evening." M. Gauthier de Clagny promptly turned down the suggestion. The Prince would do nothing against the Government, he said, for after war was declared he had scouted the idea of trying to embarrass the country, and had announced his readiness to do all he could to help the Government.After M. Cluzel, the examining magistrate who is inquiring into the Meunier affair, had heard this testimony he received Marion, manager of the Bonnet Rouge, now undergoing a sentence of ten years' hard labour passed upon him by the Third Court-martial. Marion played a preminent part in the famous trial, violently contradicting the witnesses who testified against him, and, in an attempt to save his own skin, turned on Duval, the glib editor of the Bonnet Rouge, who obtained German money in Switzerland and was shot as a traitor at Vincennes. The imprisonment of Marion has told upon him. His hair is white, and he is an inmate of the prison infirmary at Fresnes, where

WOMAN SMOKER.

A TRAIN INCIDENT.

Summoned at Westminster for smoking in a railway carriage not set apart for that purpose, Miss Evelyn Bagge, 78, Duke-street, Grosvenor-square, W., was ordered to pay two guineas costs.Mr. Rutherford, for the L.B. and S.C. Railway, said it was the first time he had prosecuted a woman for this offence. Miss Bagge was a first-class passenger from Hoxham to Victoria, and alone in the carriage was smoking a cigarette, when other women, two of them mistresses of a girls' school, were placed in the compartment by the guard.The new arrivals pointed out that it was not a smoking carriage, but
persisted in smoking, and remarked that everybody now smoked in the tube. Thereupon one of the women flicked the cigarette and holder from Miss Bagge's mouth out of the window.Mr. Purchase, for Miss Bagge, said she was a first-class passenger and was alone when the guard put in five other persons with third-class tickets.
Thinking of the recent change of regulations as to smoking in railway carriages, she understood she was entitled to smoke. One of the women made "some remarks" and deliberately knocked Miss Bagge's cigarette and five-guinea gold and tortoise-shell holder out of her mouth on to the line.
Naturally, continued counsel, in these circumstances Miss Bagge's attitude was not so conciliatory as it might have been. This incident would be the subject of other proceedings, as the cigarette-holder was lost. It was a regrettable matter on both sides, and the court was asked to deal with it without recording a conviction.Mr. Chapman, agreeing that it was a regrettable matter, said he would do that.The notorious Almercyda, Duval's predecessor in the editorship of the Bonnet Rouge, died. His statement to the examining magistrate was to the effect that in 1916, on the return of Duval from Switzerland, Meunier offered to bring funds to the Bonnet Rouge. His offer was refused by Almercyda, probably because of the money found by Duval. Subsequently Meunier founded his newspaper Le Verite. The examining magistrate ended his day's work by issuing warrants for the arrest of Judet and the painter Bossard.

HAITCHLESS EMPRESS.

TIP TO EX-KAISER.

"PUT ON YOUR 'ATS."

French type, the charm of a famous beauty in old age, is contained in the "Recollections of the Empress Eugenie," contributed to "Blackwood" by Dr. Ethel Smyth, whose home at Farnborough gave her opportunities of special intimacy.The Imperial exile's lack of gift for languages is illustrated by an incident at a meet of the barriers by invitation at Farnborough Hill."She came out on to the gravel sweep in front of the house, and her manner was more gracious and winning than any manner I had ever seen as she bowed right and left to the awestruck field, saying repeatedly:
"Put on your 'ats. I pray you put on your 'ats."The Master was then presented, and she really and truly did remark to him, "I hope the 'ounds will find the 'are near the 'ouse.""One day she was driving Dr.
Smyth back to her home at Farnham, the entrance to which was exceedingly awkward.Her coachman, not being the soberest of men, one of the hind wheels caught the gate-post, and an accident was narrowly avoided. Pulling up, he explained that "the 'orses were pulling" very "ard."The Empress's angry rejoinder was: "It's not the 'orses that are pulling; and it's you that always forget the be'ind of the carriage."The Kaiser paid her a surprise visit in her yacht years ago somewhere in the North Sea, and she remarked that he had obviously taken pains to make that visit an agreeable one.She said to him, almost as farewell words: "For the sake of the principle of monarchy don't upset any more thrones."Speaking of revolutions in general, not 1870 in particular, she said: "It is not that your enemies dethrone you, c'est que le vide se fait autour de vous."That same day she had been reading the account of the cheering of our King at Buckingham Palace.It is the most intoxicating sound mortal ears can hear," she said, and then her face changed suddenly, and no one who has not heard it can realise the horror of its pendant—the roar of a crowd that has only one desire to tear you to pieces."G. FALCONER & CO., LTD.

TERRIFIC HURRICANE.STEAMER'S HARD FIGHT.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

Among the numerous shipping arrivals at Cumberland Basin, Bristol was the Bristol City Line steamer
"Chicago City," and her appearance showed unmistakable signs that the vessel had fought a terrific battle with the elements. Her arrival at Bristol was a surprise, as most people interested in the movements of "Chicago City" expected her to be well on her way to the United States.

Two members of the Mercantile Marine Service Association who were aboard her, Mr. F. C. Davidson, the chief officer, and Mr. P. F. Pines, the second officer, have furnished the Bristol representative of the association, Captain J. S. Burdison, with a very full account of their experience, which shows that the vessel encountered a hurricane of exceptional violence, and only escaped total destruction.

After having undergone a complete overhaul the vessel proceeded from Bristol to Antwerp, where she loaded ore for Wilmington, U.S.A. She commenced her voyage from the Belgian port on the afternoon of September 25, and proceeded under normal weather conditions until the morning of Saturday, October 2, when, owing to the prevalence of a north-westerly gale, with a heavy sea, she was hoisted. When night set in the weather became decidedly worse, and the "Chicago City" shipped enormous quantities of water, but all times recovered from the shock without damage. Early on the Sunday morning a perfect hurricane prevailed, and at half-past four a very heavy sea broke on board amidships and carried away the starboard side of the navigating bridge. Between 5 and 5.30, an hour after the first smash, there came on board a sea which threatened the total destruction of the steamer, and which one of the crew describes as being "like a mountain." Having recovered from the shock of the crash and the noise of the tearing away of steel and iron, the crew had a look round, and found that serious havoc had been wrought amidships.

The demolition of the navigating bridge had been completed, the engine room telegraph and wheel having gone with the bridge. The major portion of the bridge deck, deck house, wheelhouse, and chart-room were smashed in and wrecked.
The engineers' quarters were also stove in and flooded. Three ventilators were torn from the lower bridge deck, and the two lifeboats on the starboard side had gone. Fortunately, the vessel was not capsized.

had been stopped and oil poured on the water until some of the wreckage had been cleared. When the steering gear had been released from the mass of debris the engines were re-started and the vessel kept before the sea.

The apertures in the deck caused by the tearing away of the ventilators admitted water to the stokehold, and for 24 hours great difficulty was experienced in keeping steams on the boilers. To add to the difficulties, the last heavy sea that came on board carried away the essential portions of the wireless installation, and communication with other ships was thus impossible. The ship was driven many miles south of her intended course, and it was eventually decided to make for her home port where the damage could be made good.

SINN FEIN OUTRAGES.
GRAVE SITUATION DEVELOPING IN BRITAIN.
ALARMING BOMB EXPLOSION.
PARTICULARS OF BLOODY SLAUGHTER AT KILMICHAEL.

LONDON, November 30.
It is considered that a grave situation is developing in connection with the extension of Sinn Fein outrages to the metropolitan area. Special constables have been warned to be in readiness for duty. They will probably be asked to co-operate in patrolling warehouse areas.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN LONDON.
LONDON, November 30.
A bomb explosion occurred on the premises of a skin merchant in Oldswan Lane, near London Bridge, at 12.57 this morning. The bomb apparently was left in the premises in a portmanteau and set with a time fuse. One of the floors in the building was blown up. There were no casualties.

SINN FEIN AGAIN?
LONDON, November 30.
The bomb explosion in the City is more alarming because of what it portends than for the actual damage done, which only amounted to wrecking the basement of a warehouse packed with skins. There was no loss of life because there are no dwelling houses in the neighbourhood. The authorities are not prepared to state that the outrage was the work of Sinn Feiners, but they are convinced that it was caused by a bomb similar to those used in Liverpool.

MURDER CAMPAIGN
LONDON, November 30.
Particulars of the bloody slaughter of Royal Irish Constabulary auxiliaries near Kilpatrick were given by Sir Hamar Greenwood in the House of Commons in the course of the Irish debate on the adjournment. Sir Hamar Greenwood said that the Liverpool outrages and the London attempt showed that the Sinn Fein murder campaign was carrying on its senseless campaign of murder and arson in Great Britain, and it would be extended to persons and property here unless the country was thoroughly roused. (Cheers).

DEAD DESECRATED.
He proceeded to read telegrams regarding the Kilpatrick ambush which consisted of about 80 to 100 men all dressed in khaki with steel trench helmets. They fired from both sides of the road. They also had direct enfilade fire straight down. By force of arms some of the Crown men were disarmed and brutally murdered. Their bodies were riddled. All money and valuables were taken and clothing was robbed from the corpses. Sir Hamar Greenwood said that he did not think with fifteen ex-officers of the late war, thus lying dead the House would wish to continue the discussion in the face of a challenge to the authority of the House and to civilisation.

Captain Archer Redmond said that no one in the house would accuse him or those with whom he was associated of feeling anything but the deepest and most profound regret for the type of outrage just related.

BODIES HACKED WITH HATCHES.
LONDON, December 1.
It is officially announced that the bodies of the sixteen police murdered in the Macroom ambush had nearly all six bullet wounds each. They were also terribly mutilated and apparently hacked with hatchets.

HUMAN TARGETS.
LONDON, November 30.
The victims of the Macroom ambush were not "Black and Tans" but officers of the auxiliary division stationed at Macroom Castle. They are all ex-officers selected for meritorious services in the field during the war. The castle has been a sort of island in a Sinn Fein sea. The scene was an ideal spot for an ambush, one side of the road overhanging a cliff with a wood on the other side the road taking a sharp right-angle turn. The massacre has again brought into prominence the question of sending out parties in these areas. Absolutely unprotected auxiliaries are perched on high seats crowded together without elbow room. Without an inch of cover they are human targets a child could not miss. A military funeral in London has been offered the relatives of the victims.

PRECAUTIONS IN BRITAIN.
LONDON, November 30.
Precautions in London against Sinn Feiners include a special guard of secret service men for every Cabinet Minister.

LONDON, November 30.
A mysterious Sinn Feiner, described as "No. 87" was remanded at Liverpool on a charge of murdering the civilian, Daniel Ward, who detected the incendiaries.

LONDON, November 30.
The Police to-day searched the offices of the Irish Self-Determination League in London and four other houses. They removed all documents and money.

LONDON, November 30.
On the arrival of the "Aquitania" at Southampton from New York, six suspected Sinn Feiners were arrested for possessing arms and ammunition.

LONDON, December 1.
The six suspects on the "Aquitania" were released later and proceeded to London.

LONDON, December 1.
In the House of Commons, Sir Hamar Greenwood, asked if the police would be armed, replied that any officer on dangerous duty would be supplied with a revolver. The police authorities had discretion to arm their men.

LONDON, November 30.
Two men detained in London as a result of anti-Sinn Fein raids, were subsequently released.

Most elaborate precautions to protect the judges and witnesses at the Ulster Assizes were taken in Belfast where the cases number 500, mostly arising out of the recent riots.

MANY ARRESTS IN DUBLIN.
LONDON, November 30.
Yesterday's arrests in Dublin included William Sears, M.P. for Mayo South.

TO-DAY'S CABLES.

(Reader's Service to the China Mail.)

SINN FEIN OUTRAGES.

Professor MacNeill, who was arrested on November 26 has been released. Griffith remains in Mountjoy Gaol.

Altogether 400 persons have been arrested in Dublin during the past ten days, including the manager and two members of the staff of the newspaper, Young Ireland. The significant efficiency of the round-ups is evidenced by the numbers of rifles, revolvers, and bombs, and the quantity of ammunition found lying in the streets of Dublin discarded by owners fearing discovery of possession of them.

NEWSPAPER OFFICE FIRED.

LONDON, November 30.

A mysterious party of armed and masked men set fire to the Freeman's Journal office in Dublin at midnight.

LONDON, November 30.

Before the Freeman's Journal office was fired armed and masked men entered the offices of the Unionist paper, the Irish Times and held up the editorial staff with revolvers while they extracted a promise that nothing would be divulged.

Fires in Cork this morning were awakened by thrilling scenes. Two ladies sleeping in a flat were attended by a bomb and dashed down a blazing staircase in their night dresses. They escaped slightly injured.

MURDER AND INCENDIARISM.

LONDON, November 30.

The Sinn Fein Hall in Limerick was burned down yesterday evening. There were four incendiary fires in Cork last evening. The City Hall was set afire by bombs thrown through the windows. The fire was speedily checked.

Uniformed men raided several houses in Ardee, County Louth, and removed two men whose bodies were subsequently found outside the town. Dublin Castle reports that two ex-soldiers were seized by armed civilians at Killinacree, Tipperary, and chained to a wall in Kilkenny. For two days they were unable to lie down owing to the shortness of the chains.

INTERMENT CAMPS.

LONDON, November 30.

In the House of Commons, Sir Hamar Greenwood said that it was intended to intern persons whom there was reason to believe were connected with the Irish Republican Army. They would be treated the same as prisoners of war, but that did not involve their recognition as prisoners of war nor give to them that status.

LABOUR INQUIRY INTO REPRISALS.

LONDON, December 1.

The Labour Commission of Inquiry into reprisals in Ireland, which left London for Dublin this morning, includes Mr. Arthur Henderson, M.P. and Mr. Adamson, M.P., with Brigadier C. B. Thompson as military adviser.

EXPLOSION IN COFFIN MAKER'S WORKSHOP.

LONDON, November 30.

Light was thrown on the coffin maker's workshop explosion at the court of inquiry when the police testified that they found a tin box there hidden under a bench containing 353 rounds of revolver ammunition, all flat nosed also an unexploded bomb concealed there.

GOVERNMENT'S POWERS.

LONDON, December 1.

In the House of Commons, at question time, replying to Mr. Leonard Lyle, Mr. Shortt expressed the opinion that the existing powers of the Government, including the Defence of the Realm Regulations, were sufficient to deal effectively with Sinn Fein outrages in England, but when the Defence of the Realm Act expired it might be necessary to ask for further powers.

FRENCH EMBASSY AT THE VATICAN.

PARIS, December 1.

The Chamber of Deputies has adopted a Bill by 397 votes to 209 re-establishing the Embassy at the Vatican with which there has been a diplomatic rupture since 1905.

THEATRE ROYAL.

The public is asked to note that the booking for the Warwick Comedy Company's season is now open at Moutrie's. Other plays to be given are—"The Law Divine," "The Case of Lady Camber," "Doormats," "When we Were Twenty-one," "Eliza Comes to Stay," "Captain Drew," and "A Woman of no Importance." An attractive programme indeed! NEW CLUB PROJECT.

spoke too highly and which he understood was to be shortly demolished. Thanks were also due to other similar institutions. Of course, they must always have their cantenues and refreshment-halls in barracks, but in a place like this where there are so many small detachments, the Commanding Officer, not having sufficient funds, could not make them as comfortable as they could be in a building such as it was now proposed to erect. He intended sending a report of the proceedings to the War Office, and he had no hesitation in ever recommending the scheme to the favorable consideration of the public. This building would be a great tribute to the silent millions who sleep beneath foreign soil and at the bottom of the sea. (Applause.)

OFFER OF COOPERATION.

Mr. G. T. Ekins said that because the scheme would be beneficial to the services, it would receive the hearty support of the Colony. (Cheers.) It would provide an up-to-date indoor recreation club, such as did not at present exist—a building with swimming baths, gymnasium, and a large entertainment hall, lined up with living quarters and well-equipped reading rooms. In a measure some such institutions existed in the Colony, rendering good services to the Service men such as the Seafarers' Home and the Sailors' Home, and they provided good accommodation. Men could be had on the premises and various kinds of recreation were provided. The Seafarers' Institute was a model little institute of its kind and did a great deal of good work both for the men of the mercantile marine and the Service men. It had been remarked that there were some who saw objections to the present proposal, because it was thought that, with its greater advantages, it would clash with the existing institutions. It was stated that to some extent this must be so, but the tendency was towards a growing demand for club facilities and recreation and he believed that there was room for such a scheme, and for the old one well. It was proposed to have a hall which would accommodate five hundred persons. He thought in that connection that it would be of advantage to approach those responsible for running existing institutions to join the Committee organizing the new Y.M.C.A. building, and he believed that it would be a good thing if they could be persuaded, in due course, to join the board of control, because he felt sure that their advice and guidance would be valuable. He offered for the consideration of those responsible the names of Commander C. V. Beckwith, and the manager of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home, which he believed was run by the Wesleyan Mission. Amalgamation was the spirit of the times. They saw it proposed in the scheme before them, and it might be found that it could be carried further as regards co-operation between the present Seafarers' Institute and this large scheme. Personally, he was strongly in favour of amalgamating them with the Y.M.C.A. He believed Mr. Holyoak's proposal were sound, and he thought the Y.M.C.A. was the only association which could be depended upon to provide capable men to run it. Their prestige during the war warranted it, and they were the people to provide a body of experienced men in this work of managing the new enterprise. He had much pleasure in supporting the proposal.

LOWER DECK VIEW.

Two representatives of the Lower Deck spoke of the scheme as it was proposed to erect a building such as it was proposed to erect. They said that the men of the Fleet wanted social and professional education that would equip them to mix with the civilians wherever they went. They were ashamed to take their friends to the present quarters provided for them. They wanted a place where they could bring their wives and sweethearts.

PATRONS OF NEW CLUB.

The Hon. Mr. John Jenkinson, submitted the following resolution:—That the following gentlemen be invited to become patrons of the new building, H.E. the Governor, Sir R. E. Stubbs, K.C.M.G., H.E. Vice-Admiral Sir A. L. Duff, K.C.B., H.E. Major-General P. Venturi, C.B., and Commodore W. Bowden-Smith, R.N. Mr. Jenkinson said that, as they were aware, the late Mr. Landale in the chairmanship of the War Memorial Committee. Certain recommendations were put forward by his Committee as to the form which this memorial should take, and through H.E. the Governor, they were enabled to obtain "the finest site" on which to erect it. The Finance Committee now had the matter in hand, and in point of fact all arrangements had been made to call for designs, arrange for judges and issue subscription lists, when the present proposal was put forward. As it was evident that there existed a feeling in the Colony that they could employ a large sum of money—such as they decided to devote to the Memorial—to better advantage in an emergency meeting of the committee, he called that morning to consider whether or not they would better serve the requirements of the Colony if they cut down their proposed expenditure on an expensive obelisk and supported the idea of a comprehensive Y.M.C.A. building, which would, at all events, be of use to our fighting services.

if, indeed, it did, or did not, become, of equal value to a considerable body of young Britons within the course of the next few years. The result of their meeting that morning was that complete agreement was reached "that we should support this Y.M.C.A. scheme wholeheartedly." (Applause.) Making out share in it our War Memorial, but that, as the same position in Statue Square a simple and less costly remembrance of those who were never returned (applause)—they might not be able still to retain the "finest site" for this less expensive scheme, but they trusted that, if their suggestion met with the general approval of the meeting, His Excellency, who, he believed, had the re-arrangement of the Square in view, would also then permit to retain the original site (applause). This suggestion might be regarded with disfavour by some, but if it met with general favour that night and a resolution was put forward by that meeting to support the Y.M.C.A. scheme in preference to, but not excluding entirely, the idea of a suitable but simple memorial in Statue Square, they would accept it with pleasure. He realized that the question of War Memorial was not on the agenda for that night's meeting, but he had explained the views of the War Memorial Committee, and as that meeting was representative of the Colony's leading men, he considered the opportunity of obtaining their views too good to be missed (hear, hear). With regard to the scheme itself, and if desired quite apart from the War Memorial, he would not have hesitated to serve on the Finance Committee, if elected, had he not considered the proposal good and worthy of support. If the civilian element did not yet mix with the naval and military, "all I can say is," said the speaker, "it is time they damn well did," and he suggested that they should take seriously to heart the remarks so ably put forward by the Lower Deck. Further, the necessary funds would be considerable, and he suggested that a little less lip service and fewer anonymous letters to the papers explaining how "I would have done it, if Bill had not done it for me" would be acceptable, as also would be a subscription (Laughter and applause).

Mr. G. M. Downes seconded the resolution. Mr. E. J. Geist suggested that the amendment indicated in Mr. Jenkinson's speech, sent the War Memorial, should be added to the resolution. His Excellency, the Governor said that if he could have seen his way to do so, he would have done so, but that was not possible, and the matter would necessarily have to be dealt with as another resolution. Proceeding His Excellency said that a large sum of money were wasted in London which were never looked at. Nothing would be required to remind the present generation of what our men had done in the war, and for the next generation there could be no more available reminder than a large building. One of the reasons that he had not volunteered an opinion to the Memorial Committee was that he had a suspicion that a site would be asked for. He had made up his mind that, so far as he was able to prevent it, no building would be erected on the "best site" in the Colony, and to prevent its being done he would support the raising of a statue there. The resolution was carried.

WAR MEMORIAL AMALGAMATION. Mr. Geist moved "That the Memorial be amalgamated in its major part with the new Y.M.C.A. and that, in addition, a simple Memorial be erected on what is known as 'the finest site' in Statue Square." Mr. R. Hancock seconded. "DISCUSSION REGARDING NAME OF CLUB." Mr. A. O. Laro asked what the name of the new club was to be. He said it was a question of great importance to many. The name "Union Jack" would be popular with all. A Sauter: At our meeting we supported the idea of the club being called the "Union Club" to indicate the amalgamation. Mr. Ekins pointed out that in the resolutions that had been adopted the name used had been Y.M.C.A. Was it possible now to adopt another? He said that he believed the Y.M.C.A. was the best body to run such a club, and it was questionable whether or not they would undertake to do so, unless it bore their name. The Y.M.C.A. assured a permanent board of control, and that was what they wanted. His Excellency the Governor asked Mr. McPherson whether or not there was any objection by the Y.M.C.A. to establishing their staff in a building not bearing their name. Mr. McPherson said he could not reply off-hand. The Y.M.C.A. people were running the Red Triangle Club. Mr. A. O. Laro questioned whether the Y.M.C.A. would not object to run any club which embraced a canteen, since their rules were strongly against the sale of off-hand. Laro questioned whether the Y.M.C.A. would not object to run any club which embraced a canteen, since their rules were strongly against the sale of off-hand. Admiral Duff said that the proposal of the Navy was to have the extension in a separate building, adjoining the club. (Continued on Page 10.)

THE SOUTH AUSTRALIA MATCH.

Adelaide, Nov. 8.—The weather was cloudy and muggy, and a stiff wind was blowing, when the game between the M.C.C. and the South Australians entered upon its final stages to-day. The not-outs Fellow (33), and Smith (15), faced the bowling of Howell and Hearne. Early disaster overtook the Australians, for with his third ball Howell cleared bowled Smith (51-1-15). Henry joined Fellow, and the score mounted steadily until a double change was made, Wilson and Douglas displacing Howell and Hearne. The change was immediately effective, for with his third ball Wilson beat Henry (94-2-17). A brilliant catch by Douglas off his own bowling disposed of Fellow (107-3-64). The retiring batsman had given a mastery and artistic display, the feature of which was his variety of strokes. Eighteen runs later Victor Richardson was out to a magnificent catch by Hobbs off Douglas (124-4-11). Gehrs and Stirling were both clean bowled by Howell at 149-6-0. When Richardson and Kendall became associated a great partnership ensued. Despite repeated changes, the pair remained together and defied the efforts of the M.C.C. bowlers to dislodge them. The score mounted steadily until at length Kendall played on a ball from Hearne (315-7-75). At twenty minutes to six a successful appeal was made against the light.

On the following morning, A. Richardson and Phillips faced the bowling of Hearne and Howell. With but three runs added to the overnight score, Richardson was bowled by Hearne (315-8-111) and one run later Howell beat Phillips with a nice ball (319-9-0). The last wicket added 20 runs before Thurgarland was bowled by Hearne for 11. Bowling for the M.C.C.: Howell had 4 wickets for 81; Douglas 2 for 67; Hearne 3 for 53; Wilson 1 for 54; Parkin 0 for 41; and Woolley 0 for 22. MATCH AGAINST VICTORIA.

Melbourne, Nov. 12.—The match between Victoria and the M.C.C. began here to-day. The weather was sultry, and rain seemed imminent when the Victorian skipper Mayne, having won the toss, walked to the wicket with Park and faced the bowling of Douglas and Howell. With only five runs on the board, Park was caught at the wicket off Howell (5-1-0). Mayne and Willis, however, steadied matters, and, by attractive cricket, the score was taken to 68 before Willis got his leg in front of a straight one from Parkin (68-2-20). The newcomers were Vernon Ransford, the famous left-hander, but he was out to a catch by Woolley while on a run being added (68-3-0). The next two wickets only realised nine runs, and lunch was taken with the score at 102 for 5.

With the fall of the sixth wicket at 105, Lampard and Liddicut became associated, and a great partnership ensued. Both were especially aggressive. With the score at 210 for 6 rain interrupted play for half an hour. When play was resumed, Lampard and Liddicut continued to bat freely, and the partnership continued until the score reached 247, having realised 142 runs. Both batsmen were accorded a ovation. The remaining batsmen gave little trouble, and the innings closed for 274. Hobbs and Russell scored 24 without loss, before stumps were drawn. Bowling for the M.C.C. Parkin had 4 for 58; Woolley, 3 for 29; Howell, 2 for 70; Fender, 1 for 49; and Douglas, 0 for 62.

Melbourne, Nov. 13.—The weather was warm and muggy, and the game between the over-night not-outs, Hobbs (11) and Russell (13), resumed batting for the M.C.C. Both bats opened confidently on a good wicket and run came freely. The crowd enthusiastically applauded every scoring shot. They were lucky in finding Hobbs in one of his brightest moods.

The Surrey crack registered his first century of the tour and was eventually out to a catch by Moyes off Ryder, having gathered 131 runs in 213 minutes by masterly cricket without giving a shadow of a chance.

Russell was caught by Mullet off McDonald for 49. The scores were:—Victoria, first innings, 214.

MANCHESTER TRADE.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

Messrs. James F. Hutton & Co., Ltd., Manchester, manufacturers and exporters of all kinds of place goods to India, China, etc., reported on Oct. 2: The improved tone evident in the cotton markets at the close of last week has developed into an active bullish movement and values have advanced rapidly in spite of fairly wide fluctuations caused through the unsettled industrial position here. Trade buying is principally responsible for the change in sentiment and there is little doubt this has been started in the belief that cotton had reached as low a level as could be expected and was likely to advance rapidly when the coal strike is settled. Whether there will be the necessary improvement in the goods markets to maintain the advance, it is still difficult to foresee. The census figures of American Cotton ginned up to the 18th inst. indicate a crop fully up to the Bureau estimate. They show 5,712,000 bales against 4,929,000 bales to the same date last year, and 6,811,000 bales in 1918. Business in yarns has also been more active and is in part to be accounted for by the fact that some sellers of cloth who have not been covering sales immediately, owing to values falling, have now been forced to do so. Prices are higher, beams especially having advanced quickly. The cloth market is much more hopeful, dealer cotton having brought out a moderate amount of purchases, and although the total turnover has not been either extensive or of a general character the opinion is becoming more prevalent that a fairly safe level has been reached and the outlook is regarded as being much more healthy. Prices are distinctly firmer and on an improved basis from sellers' point of view. It can hardly be expected however that confidence can be restored immediately after the difficulties that have been encountered recently, and the main obstacle to any general resumption of activity is still the absorption of the higher priced goods bought early in the year. The coal strike is still unsettled but it is generally anticipated that an arrangement will be come to this week as the result of negotiations now proceeding. China still does not show signs of coming into the market but India has bought Dhooies, Jaconettes and light goods. The Near East and Levant have been responsible for some purchases and orders have also been placed for South America and Colombo.
